

Light of a Woman lyrics by Finding Your Voice Choir

She is a baby with ribbons of blue.
She is a girl with the world in her eyes and nothing to prove.
She is the dreamer of things we can't see.
The light of the future yet to be held by the woman to be.
Oh, I'll light a candle for you.
You light a candle my candle for me.
We'll walk hand in hand, leaving tracks in the sand.
For the women that we used to be.
Oh, now we hold this candle for you.
And it burns for the women to be.
Planting acres of flowers in unspoken hours.
On the grace of the ones we set free.
It's the flame of the woman to be.
The light of a woman like me.
She is a mother with light in her hands.
She is the woman with more on her shoulders and she understands.
She is the giver of things we all need.
The keeper of life for the ones in the darkness, a woman like me.
Oh, I'll light a candle for you.
You light a candle for me.
We'll walk hand in hand, leaving tracks in the sand.
For the women that we used to be.
Oh, now we hold this candle for you.
And it burns for the women to be.
Planting acres of flowers in unspoken hours.
On the grace of the ones we set free.
It's the flame of a woman like me.
It's the light of a woman like me.
She is a story with pain in her stride.
She is a woman who fought for our freedom and fell to the fight.
She is a keeper of all we can be.
The light in the candle that burns in our heart, she's finally free.
Oh, I'll light a candle for you.
You light a candle for me.
And we'll walk hand in hand, leaving tracks in the sand.
For the women that we used to be.
Oh, now we hold this candle for you.
So it burns for the women to be.

Planting acres of flowers in unspoken hours.

On the grace of the ones we set free.

It's the flame of a woman set free.

The light of a woman like me.

It's the flame of a woman like me.

It's the light of a woman like me.

Share the light for a woman like me.
